

EXPERIENCED MODEL ENGINEER

DEERHUNTER®

F. Engel K/S (Department Deerhunter®) is looking for an experienced and methodical model technician who has the desire and ability to participate in the development and maintenance of our current and future model programme.

JOB DESCRIPTION:

You will be part of our design and purchasing department, which is responsible for the development of our existing and future clothing products within the hunting and outdoor segment. As a model technician, you will be responsible for maintaining measurement diagrams and product specifications, and it is therefore important that you are highly detail-oriented. You take a systematic approach to things and take pride in ensuring that everything you are responsible for is always under control. You are meticulous in your work and know the importance of keeping basic documentation in order.

TASKS:

- Measuring, adjusting and commenting on approval samples together with design
- Maintaining measurement diagrams, drawings and descriptions in PLM for both new and existing models
- Technical drawings, working drawings and detailed drawings in Adobe illustrator
- Commenting on and approving fabrics, including patch-dips and trim for ongoing production
- Daily supplier contact
- Performing wash tests, etc.
- Ad-hoc tasks in the design department and supporting the sales and complaints department

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Positive, engaged and self-motivated
- Structured with a good overview and good sense of order
- Preferably trained as a model designer, model technician or similar
- Experience in the clothing industry with experience in sewing techniques
- Knowledge of material types in functional clothing
- Good working spoken and written English as a minimum

- Experienced PC user, preferably experience with (Yunique) PLM
- Knowledge of Adobe illustrator
- You thrive in a creative environment where the pace is high and where every day presents new challenges
- You live within daily driving distance to Haderslev

WE OFFER:

A challenging and independent role in a dynamic organisation where the tone is informal. The position is permanent with 37 hours per week as standard. In addition, we can offer you a salary commensurate with your qualifications, as well as an attractive pension scheme and health insurance. Start date: As soon as possible.

APPLICATION:

If you would like to join our team and you have the right qualifications, please send your application with relevant attachments to:
